

The Turing Trust believes in a world of equal opportunity. By providing reused IT resources to African schools and with your help, we can make this a reality.

THE STORY SO FAR

More than 4000 computers sent to Africa

66 schools supported in Ghana

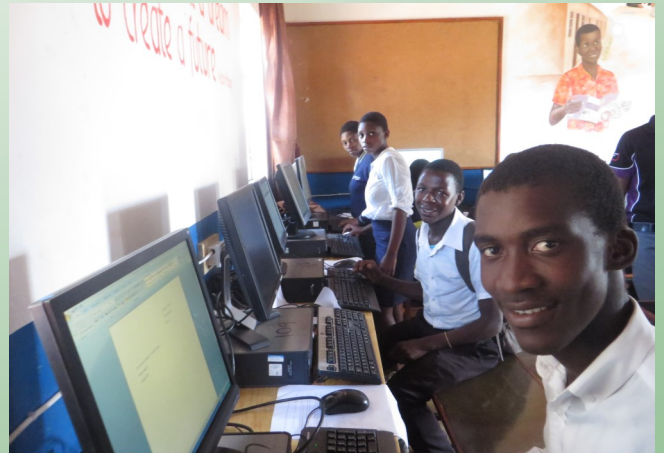

25 schools supported in Malawi

More than 8000 African students helped to become IT literate

More than 20 ICT teacher training workshops held in Ghana and Malawi

OUR PROJECTS

- The SolarBerry - a community-owned shipping container, housing a computer laboratory with Raspberry Pis and powered entirely by solar energy
- Sending computers to set up computer labs in schools in Ghana and Malawi
- Training workshops for ICT teachers
- IT technicians to support effective maintenance and repair in Ghana and Malawi
- Development of an e-library tailored to the local curriculum

HOW YOU CAN HELP

The Turing Trust is keen to develop lasting relationships with companies and organisations who share our goals.

THIS CAN INCLUDE
