

Over to you

Alice and Bertie have a new friend.

Woodland bookends

Name: Alice

“On a Sunday morning, me and my brother, Bertie, were looking for something to do. We decided to look in The Week Junior for ideas. We came across the colourful bookends in issue 511. In the end, we wanted to do a fox inspired by Bertie’s class mascot. We didn’t have a jar, so we used masking tape and old newspaper. My favourite part was making the log, as we managed to make it look just like wood. I found it hard when we were painting the fox because it was textured as a result of the masking tape. Next time, we will try to make it smoother so it is easier to paint. We found it really fun and we will definitely do it again on another rainy day.”

TEACHER OF THE WEEK

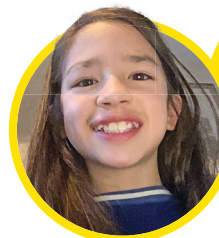

Teacher’s name:
Miss Baker

School: Loddon Primary School, Earley, England

“Miss Baker was my Year 2 teacher. She always helps anyone who needs help with their work. She is the leader of our year group and we all love her for being such a great teacher. If we are good, she even lets us go outside at the end of the day. She also gives the best book recommendations, and reads lots of different books to us and we always enjoy them. I think other people should have her as their teacher because she is amazing!” Quinton

If we pick your teacher as Teacher of the Week, we’ll send your school three free issues of The Week Junior. Send your nominations, along with a picture of your teacher and your school’s full name and address, to hello@theweekjunior.co.uk

JOKE OF THE WEEK
“Why were the elves in hospital?
Because they had tinselitis.”
Hannah

CHARITY OF THE WEEK

The Turing Trust

The Turing Trust fixes old computers for students around the world. Set up by the family of Alan Turing, a famous mathematician and code-breaker, it has helped more than 252,000 students learn digital skills while helping the planet. If your family or school has an old computer to donate, ask an adult to visit turingtrust.co.uk

GET INVOLVED

Ruby Robin Award

Birds can struggle during the winter when it gets cold and food is hard to find – so the bird conservation charity SongBird Survival wants you to help. It has created a list of fun challenges including creating bird feeders and learning “worm charming” (getting worms to come to the surface of the soil). Everyone who completes four challenges and makes a claim before 28 February will get a Ruby Robin Award. If you want to protect wildlife, this is the perfect opportunity to do so while connecting with nature. Ask an adult to help you sign up at tinyurl.com/TWJ-ruby

The robin is a type of songbird.

"This is me in Kenya at an animal orphanage where there are lots of rescued animals including a baby rhino called Moyo who is only three months old. He likes The Week Junior as much as I do." Bea

"I found this suspicious, headless snake skeleton on Dartmoor. Do you know what it is?" Harry

"Now my cats Salt and Pepper are as informed on the world as I am!" Allegra

"We created this snow bear in the snow. We wanted to make something different from a snowman. We loved making this as we created a seat to sit on it." Jasneet, Angad and Simrit

We're proud to be plastic-free

Plastic FREE

The Week Junior is delivered without a wrapper. This decision was made in response to requests from our readers who wanted us to reduce waste. Since removing the wrap in 2018 we have saved our planet from more than 20 tonnes of plastic and made your magazine 100% recyclable. Very occasionally, magazines are damaged in the post. If you are dissatisfied with the condition of your copy, please contact support@mymagazine.co.uk to request a replacement.
